

Building Responsibility And Self-Management

“TEACHING STUDENTS RESPONSIBLE BEHAVIOR”

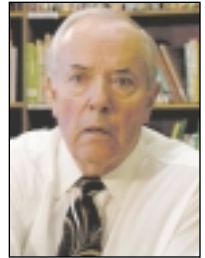

3 Semester Hours of Graduate Credit

You can learn how to reduce discipline problems and improve student achievement. The strategies demonstrated in these courses are proven to effectively reduce discipline problems by as much as 86%.

Reduce disruptive behavior and teach students to behave responsibly.

If you have disruptive or off-task students, this course can help you. It will show you why these students are misbehaving, how to stop the unwanted behavior and how to teach students to behave more appropriately. You will learn the psychology, the system and the classroom strategies to teach students how to behave responsibly.

IN THIS COURSE, YOU WILL LEARN HOW TO:

-  determine why students choose to misbehave.
-  implement a proven approach to improving student behavior.
-  reduce conflict and increase cooperation.
-  effectively use “Time Out” to improve behavior.
-  help students set and reach goals for improved behavior.

The “Teaching Students Responsible Behavior” video course gives you a complete, easy-to-follow behavior management program designed to improve your students’ behavior and their academic achievement.

WITH GROUP AND EARLY BIRD DISCOUNTS

See registration form for details

Enroll Today! (800) 486-8650